

Plaque unveiling part of launch for new novel

Expositor Staff

Wednesday, August 20, 2014 9:04:12 EDT PM

<http://www.brantfordexpositor.ca/2014/08/20/plaque-unveiling-part-of-launch-for-new-novel>

City author Marsha Skrypuch will launch on Friday her newest novel, Dance of the Banished, about a young Brantford man who was interned in a prison camp 100 years ago.

The launch will be held following the unveiling of a plaque at the Ukrainian Catholic Church of St. John commemorating the 100th anniversary of Canada's first national internment operations.

One hundred plaques will be unveiled at 11 a.m. during ceremonies at different locations all across the country.

Those who plan to attend the plaque unveiling at the Ukrainian Catholic Church of St. John, at 92 Terrace Hill St., are asked to arrive at 10:30 a.m.

Copies of Skrypuch's book will be for sale, with a portion of the proceeds being donated to the parish.

